Enjoy towering clifftops, marvel at amazing rock formations, take a cruise around the spectacular Tasman Peninsula. This is a moderate to hard walk with rocky surfaces, steps and climbs to navigate so come prepared!

DAY ONE

Crescent Bay and Mount Brown

9km walking, approx. 5 hours of walking, including breaks (moderate to hard grade)

We depart Hobart to the Remarkable Caves carpark where we begin our walk for the day. The first part of the hike crosses a series of sand dunes covered in coastal heath vegetation, and you may even spot an echidna. This section offers westerly views back towards Cape Raoul. The track then opens out into a gaping cavity known as Maingon Blowhole.

The track then heads inland onto the lower knolls of Mount Brown where a series of cairns will direct your ascent. The walk up to the summit (optional) is moderately steep, with views over Cape Pillar, Tasman Island, Arthurs Peak and further south to Cape Raoul and Bruny Island.

Once back on the main track we reach Crescent Bay. This beach is incredibly beautiful and often sparsely populated. There is the option to swim here.

After the day's walk, we head back to our accommodation for well-earned pre-dinner antipasto followed by a fabulous two-course meal prepared by your guides.

Meals: Lunch and dinner

Overnight accommodation at The Three Capes and Tasman Lodge in Port Arthur. This lodge is a purpose built six bedroom, six bathroom hiking lodge set on 45 acres of bush land with sea views of the spectacular Tasman Coast. All bedrooms have their own ensuite, and a large verandah wraps around the lodge with direct access from all bedrooms through French doors. A shared living and dining area provides a communal space for all guests to enjoy.

You can choose a single supplement if you would prefer not to share a room.

DAY TWO

Cape Raoul

14km, approx. 6 hours walking, including breaks – moderate grade

After breakfast and lunch making we begin our walk today out to Cape Raoul. Offering some of the most spectacular coastal lookouts in Tasmania, Cape Raoul is an excellent return day walk within the Tasman National Park. With only a few steep sections, this is a comfortable walk allowing ample time to relax and enjoy the expansive views of the surrounding Tasman Peninsula and further south to Bruny Island.

At the trail head for Cape Raoul there are toilet facilities available. We start walking through heathland and after a short gradual climb we cross a bridge above a small gully.

The bushland then opens up with spectacular views of the incredible cliffs. Cape Raoul is just beyond the lower plateau to the east. A short distance to your right is another open section of the cliff top allowing you a stunning view down to Shipstern Bluff, beyond to Bruny Island and Tasmania's southern coast. From these lookouts, we also may have our first encounter with the intense winds the capes are famous for (some of the strongest recorded winds in Australia).

The trail heads east from here along the cliff tops, descending the steepest part of the trail first onto the Cape Raoul plateau.

Once on the plateau the landscape changes to stunning coastal banksia scrub and soon we see our first glimpses of the northern coastline including Mt Brown, Arthurs Peak and Mt Fortescue. Situated a little further east, are the impressive 300-metre-high cliffs of Cape Pillar.

Meals: breakfast, lunch and dinner

DAY THREE

Fortescue Bay to Cape Hauy (optional visit to Port Arthur)

8km, approx. 5 hours walking, including breaks – moderate to hard grade

After breakfast and lunch making we depart from the Lodge and head off for the day's walk to Cape Hauy. This is a well-constructed trail with fantastic views. This walk is spectacular, however is graded moderate to hard due to lengthy sections of well-constructed stone steps that ascend and descend nearly the entire length of the trail. (you must navigate these heading out to the Cape and on the way back again). The walk starts at a beautiful cove and there are some steep sections with stairs. There is a steep climb at the start and end of the walk, but once at the top of the first saddle extensive panoramic views stretch far north past the Forester coast to Maria Island and south, detailing the ridges of Cape Pillar. Towards the end the track follows the cliffs edge, providing spectacular views.

The final segment of the trail, before reaching a large plateau, is quite steep and narrow and again care needs to be taken to navigate this section. Once at the end you are able to clearly view the exceptional rock formations of the Candlestick and Totem Pole, large columns of dolerite rocking out of the ocean. We then return via the same route. The terrain is quite rocky and there are ups and downs but it is a magnificent walk as long as you are prepared.

We have some free time in the afternoon. You can simply relax or guides can drop you at the Port Arthur Historic Site where you can visit the interpretation centre or the visitor centre (self-guided and own expense).

Meals: breakfast & lunch
